THRESHOLDS

HOME | HEALTH | HOPE

COMPUTER CLASSES

Free Computer Classes and One-on-One Sessions

Chicago Public Library
CyberNavigators Program

The Chicago Public Library offers both small group classes and one-on-one sessions in computer instruction at 45 library locations throughout the city. The program is called CyberNavigators. One-on-one sessions are by appointment only and may last up to one hour.

Learn about:

- Computer basics
- Email basics
- Internet basics
- Online job searching and resume writing
- Online research methods
- How to use the Chicago Public Library website, including checking account information and renewing materials

Here is a link to the 45 locations and their regularly scheduled hours (please call ahead to confirm availability): http://www.chipublib.org/eventsprog/programs/cyber_nav_branches.php.

Here is a link to some scheduled CyberNavigator classes: http://www.chipublib.org/events/search/?program=201&x=65&y=16.

Place in Chicago to Use a Computer for Free

Other than public libraries, people in Chicago can find more than 250 places to use a computer for free by typing in their address at the following website: http://weconnectchicago.org/.