FINANCIAL EDUCATION

Financial Education Classes

Heartland Alliance is offering several financial education workshops in April, May and June of 2013. They also offer a career workshop, Securing Employment with a Criminal Background. These workshops are free and open to the public. Please see course catalogue for a schedule of classes and a list of Heartland Alliance locations. Please call the workshop contact person at least 2 days in advance so they can prepare enough materials for the workshop.

The Odyssey Project – Free College Humanities Classes

The Odyssey Project is a college-level course in philosophy, literature, art history and history for men and women living below 150% of the poverty level. Classes are held in Chicago and Champaign from September to May. There is no cost to students, including free on-site baby-sitting, books and bus fare. Students who successfully complete the course receive 6 fully transferrable credit hours from Bard College. The application is available in June. For more information about the Odyssey Project, visit <http://www.prairie.org/odysseyproject/>.
